

Dear Lil.

It's been a long time since I wrote you last. Aie been a bit under the weather this past summer & I'm just about getting back on my feet.

It's Dring that I'm worried about. what I heard is that he has some kind of cancer in the lining of the lung. The bad thing is, they have no way of treating it & he's in constant pain.

I spoke to him on the phone today & he sounds weak. He's in a hospice & they are trying to help him manage the pain with drugs.

I hope you & Bob are feeling OK. I hesitated writing this letter today. it sounds so gloomy, so I'll cut it short.

Regards to Bob & take care of yourself.

Paulie
