Dear Lil.

I finally got enough energy to sit down at the computer and write to you. I am sorry it took so long. Between doctors and tests for Jackie and me I don't know weather I am coming or going anymore.

I had another cat scan and pet scan three weeks ago and it showed no improvement at all. It is about the same condition as when I started. It looks like I will be on this therapy for the rest of my life. The doctor changed the chemo so I don't have the stomach pain that would last for twelve hours, that is the only good that has happend.

Thanks for the picture of Jackie and me taken at your wedding. Jackie cant get over how good she and I looked like about fifty years ago. Mother nature and her cruel tricks. We tried to enlarge it on the computer but the color don't come out right. Would you have the negative ?

I cant think of any thing more to write about except I hope you and Bob are feeling well. Take care of your selves and regards from Jackie and me.

I love you,

PS

I spelled happen wrong. Excuse me.
